Key Points to be Considered in Social Media Communication

As PayPorter, we pay special attention to acting in an informative and accessible manner in social media communication. As the financial sector is a strictly regulated sector, our organization is obliged to comply with certain rules. Therefore, we use an official and professional social media language. Our priorities are providing our followers with the most accurate information and answers possible in the fastest way and adhering to our mission and values while doing this and protecting the interests of the public.

Communication language

All messages on all media platforms are shared in accordance with the rules outlined in the communication descriptions above. PayPorter employees and all stakeholders that cooperate with PayPorter are deemed to agree with these communication descriptions.

Being Positive and Transparent

Our social media posts do not contain any negative elements. We present our contents with positive attitude, and we act with honesty and transparency in all information that we share.

Other Accounts/Sources

Any message that we share never contains any elements such as anger, violence etc. against another account, person or organization.

If it is required to share any contents belonging to another source on the social media accounts of our organization, these contents are shared by including sources and references.

Unlicensed image sources may not be used on the social media accounts of PayPorter.

Dates and Times

Use lowercase letters and colons for times.

Example: 10:00 am- 1:00 pm

Full words should be used for the days of the week and months (Monday, Tuesday) (January, February).

Abbreviations should not be used. Dates such as 02.10.2021 may be used for the integrity of the design or the correct transmission of the message.

Notes on Punctuation Marks

A colon and a space should be used before sharing links.

Example: www.payporter.com.tr/hakkimizda

A single exclamation mark should be used to indicate excitement.

Emoticons may be used without exaggeration. The emoticons to be used should never contain any negative elements.
